

Specialists in Sludge Dewatering

As part of Euroby's specialist sludge dewatering portfolio, Euroby supplies, installs and maintains filter press units to meet customer's individual needs.

Our filter presses are supplied to a range of process industries including municipal, waste water, chemical, mineral, and industrial applications.

Euroby Filter press units are available in a range of sizes to suit the customer's specific requirement from small manually operated 500mm units to large fully automated 2mtr x 2mtr systems.

A range of plate types are available with standard recessed or membrane inflation and can be supplied with cloth wash and cake discharge systems.

Euroby's fully qualified in-house filter press engineers and technicians are available to carry out service, maintenance and process optimisation on all types and makes of filter presses.

Euroby specialise in filter press upgrades to improve automation, increase efficiency, throughput and performance.
