Our unique doorset supply and install service

Our team of experienced carpenters and fit-out specialists are dedicated to delivering projects in challenging locations throughout the London region, whether for new-build or refurbishment.

Our professional teams work to exacting deadlines, always with the care and respect for other tradesmen on-site, delivering and exceeding the high standards that our clients demand.

The right accreditations

We recognise that our clients deserve the best service possible, with products that are accredited to safety standards and are also responsibly sourced. We're committed to a voluntary quality management system which governs our internal quality policy.

Internal timber doorsets

We offer a wide range of premium quality standard or bespoke timber doorset options. These can be customised to clients' particular specifications. Our internal doors have been regularly specified on many high profile commercial projects, as well as on projects in the education, leisure and the healthcare sectors.

Timber doorsets are the heart and soul of the building. Our aim is to supply and install the doors your project demands. Our complete supply and install service means that you choose the doors and we do the rest.

External and internal steel doorsets

Stemko steel doorsets are designed and constructed to last, ensuring durable, robust and secure solutions for your property.

Heavy duty internal and external steel doors are used across commercial projects for several reasons, but primarily to provide an extra layer of security for external doorways, helping to protect the safety and integrity of a building.

Stemko steel doorsets will achieve higher acoustic, security and fire ratings when compared to timber doorsets.

Glazed timber screens

We have also earned a reputation as specialists in glazed timber screens.

We are confident that our glazed timber screens offer a solution for every requirement – from standard screens through to bespoke options, tailored to clients' individual specifications.

Sectors and specialisms

We work in a variety of sectors including commercial, education, leisure and healthcare, within the London area.

Our specialist doorset solutions cover a variety of buildings, including fit-outs, refurbishments and new build projects.

- ▶ Commercial building, fit-out and refurbishment doorset projects
- ▶ Universities, colleges and other educational building refurbishment projects
- ▶ Theatre, hotel, leisure centre and health club new build or refurbishment projects
