

The background is a close-up photograph of a marble surface. The marble has a light cream or off-white base color, with prominent, dark, almost black veins that meander across the surface. There are also some lighter, greyish or pinkish tones interspersed within the marble's texture. The lighting is soft, highlighting the natural grain and veining of the stone.

MANDARIN STONE

Mandarin Stone is delighted to present our latest collection of thoughtfully sourced materials for your project – whether it be a residential or commercial location.

Founded in 1989 by Alma Small, the company remains firmly within the Small family and each member plays a key role.

With a genuine appreciation of stone and a real passion for ensuring that every client is delighted with their finished project, we pride ourselves on taking a personal approach to your requirements. Our philosophy is simple – well-sourced materials, a broad range of options, fair pricing and an efficient service make for satisfied clients.

With nine inspirational showrooms in the UK, reputedly high stock levels, well-informed stone consultants and a professional service from your initial enquiry through to your delivery, we are confident that you will enjoy working with us.

THE JOURNEY OF YOUR STONE

We are increasingly aware of the demands for sustainable materials, reduction of our carbon footprint and of the green issues relating to our planet. The production of stone is now more environmentally friendly than ever. Used quarries are often re-filled to allow the re-growth of flora and fauna and the water required in the cutting process is recycled. In addition, when you choose stone, its long-term durability means that replacement costs are reduced and the lifetime cost is actually less than that associated with other floor and wall coverings.

The journey to your home begins in the earth when blocks of stone are extracted from quarry beds. These blocks are transported to a factory where they are cut into slabs by recycled water-cooled gang saws. Slabs are then Honed or Polished by machine and are cut into tile formats. Further specialist finishing techniques can be employed to produce a variety of 'antiqued' surfaces and edges.

Once quality-checked and crated, the material is loaded in sea-freight containers or large lorries for delivery to us.

Arriving at our Head Office in South Wales, consignments are checked and stored in our warehousing for convenience. On average, we stock nearly 200,000m<sup>2</sup> of material, which will be despatched almost immediately, for a safe delivery to its final destination.

We have our own fleet of specialist off-loading vehicles. This covers most areas of the UK. We have also tried and tested contract-hauliers operating a pallet network.

STONE INSPIRATION

It's often said that once you've visited a Mandarin Stone store, you need look no further.

Not only do we understand how to display stone in an inspiring yet honest way, we also ensure that our stone consultants offer expert advice and as little or as much design input as you require. Quite honestly, the inherent charm and longevity of our products sell themselves and once you've seen them, you're hooked. Our role in-store is to ensure that you make an informed decision in an impressive yet relaxed environment and that all of your expectations are met.

If, however, you're struggling to find time to make a visit, don't worry: we're just as efficient in communicating in other ways. Whether you telephone or e-mail our stores, there is a team of experts waiting to help. We're always happy to give advice, check stock, send samples and e-mail images to help your decision-making process from a distance.

STONE MADE EASY

Our stone collection has been reorganised to make it easier for you to navigate the numerous options.

Arranged by finish within each stone section, you can quickly whittle down your choices dependent on your desired look and scheme. On this page we have defined each finish for your convenience so that you can understand which is best suited to your requirements.

What's more, you can create your own range by adding, for example, corresponding Mosaics, Bathware or the Outdoor version of the tile you like.

Stone consultants are always on hand, whether in-store, on the telephone or by e-mail, to answer any questions or to send swatches of the stone you are considering. We understand that life is busy enough so aim to take the stress out of both choosing and ordering.

HONED

A smooth but not Polished finish to the face of the stone. Edges are either straight or beveled which gives a contemporary yet classic look.

POLISHED

A highly reflective, gloss finish to the surface of the stone with either straight or beveled edges.

BRUSHED

A method of finishing stone which gives a slight surface texture and can give a subtly softened edges. The effect of brushing and the edge finish created can differ depending on the type of stone.

TUMBLED

A method of ageing stone, in which the tiles are 'Tumbled' to give them a rounded, antique edge-finish. On certain stones, this process may also leave the surface more open and slightly textured.

PROVENCE

A broad term which encompasses various finishing methods used to achieve a traditional effects similar to an antique floor. Each piece of stone is finished by hand; some pieces will have a soft stippled surface, while others will have smooth undulations or pillowed edges. These finishes generally create the most authentically time-worn appearance for floors.

RIVEN

A naturally cleft face achieved by simply splitting blocks of stone along natural laminations. 'Riving' is usually applied to Slate, Schist or Sandstone and, occasionally to Limestone.

SPLITFACE

A method of hand finishing which gives a highly textured, variegated and tactile surface. Often used as a feature wall, many different materials can be splitfaced and products available include Mosaics, cladding blocks and wall panels. This method of finishing is also used to give texture to the external surfaces of some stone basins.

LIMESTONE POLISHED

A Polished surface is formed when honed stone is further worked by polishing pads to create a reflective, glass-like sheen. The level of polish will depend upon the natural density of the stone and the minerals within it.

A Polished finish will effectively bounce light around your room, so would be a good option for those trying to create a greater feeling of light and space. Possibly the most luxurious and opulent of looks, a Polished stone will accentuate the natural markings of the material and is perfect for adding a touch of modern glamour.

LIMESTONE TUMBLED

If you're looking for a vintage, lived-in look - a floor that appears well-loved and well-worn, then the Tumbled finish is for you.

This finishing method softens the edges of the stones and can give some areas of the surface slight texture. Bringing immediate character to any room, Tumbled Limestone is available in a wide choice of formats for use on walls and floors. The larger formats offer an authenticity and a much-desired 'reclaimed look' for a fraction of the cost.

LIMESTONE BRUSHED

This look is skillfully created by working the surface to a patina that softly texturises the stone.

The edge detail of each of our Brushed options will vary depending on their country of origin – some are just slightly rounded whilst others are far more weathered and rustic. Stones with a less antique edge are often used to bridge the gap between contemporary and traditional. Larger sizes give an imposing look reminiscent of traditional flagstone floors.

LIMESTONE PROVENCE

A very special finish achieved by hand to re-create the appearance of an original antique floor.

The term Provence encompasses numerous finishing techniques, which will vary between individual products. Some stones have a slightly cushioned edge and a gently undulating surface whilst others have a softly stippled effect to imitate years of foot traffic.

Our Provence range has been carefully sourced and we have worked closely with old-fashioned artisans to ensure the most vintage and authentic appearance.

MARBLE TUMBLED

People are often surprised to find that Marble does not always have to be glossy and sleek. Our Tumbled Marbles are expertly distressed to give a time-worn, traditional appearance.

From the time-honoured, black-and-white Di Scacchi Marble (Italian for chess) to the subtle warm tones of Eceru, this mellow finish adds a touch of earthiness to any setting.

TRAVERTINE HONED & FILLED

Extra care has been taken to source superior quality Travertine from as far afield as South America.

Popular for good reason, Honed and Filled Travertine is suited to both traditional and modern environments. With straight edges and a smooth surface created by filling the naturally occurring pits with resin, our range remains a firm favourite for those wanting warm, earthy tones but with a touch of glamour. Pits may need occasional re-filling with resin or grout.

TRAVERTINE TUMBLED, TUMBLED & FILLED

Tumbled Travertine is characterised by holes in the surface which are slurry-grouted on installation. Our Tumbled and Filled option means that these holes have been pre-filled with a resin at source, giving a smoother, more refined finish.

Both options boast softly aged edges which contribute to the much-adored, lived-in look. Whilst occasional re-filling of the pits may be required, these floors will only improve with age.

TRAVERTINE POLISHED & FILLED

All but one of our Polished and Filled Travertines are vein-cut, meaning that tiles are cut parallel to the veining in the stone. This gives a quirky wood-grain appearance that has significantly increased in popularity recently.

A reflective, Polished finish accentuates the natural markings and minerals within the stone - perfect for those wanting something a little different from the norm.

SLATE RIVEN

We've been fans of Slate from its arrival in our range some two decades ago. It remains as popular today as it was back then - practical, affordable and versatile.

'Riving' is splitting or cleaving a stone that is naturally made up of layers. Some Riven surfaces undulate more than others and this generally dictates whether the Slate looks contemporary or more rustic. Riven Slate works particularly well when used seamlessly from interior to exterior, so take a look at our Outdoor Stone collection.

A small but spectacular collection of smooth Slates that are slightly metallic in appearance.

Sufficiently decorative to bring life to both walls and floors, Honed Slate offers a distinctive satin finish which enhances the detail of the stone. Often used on feature walls or as a decorative floor covering, the varying tones and striking minerals present combine to dramatic effect.

SCHIST RIVEN

Oyster Schist has been a steadfast part of the Mandarin Stone collection from our establishment over twenty years ago.

Never failing to impress with its wide spectrum of colours and beautifully textured surface, this Schist combines durability and inherent good looks with affordability. Shown here as a practical, non-slip option for a pool surround, Oyster provides a lighter and more cost-effective alternative to our Flamed Brushed Basalt.

BASALT HONED & FLAMED BRUSHED

Basalt is a hard, dense, fine-grained volcanic rock that is relatively consistent in shade. Pin holes characterise the surface of our Honed Basalts which boast an unrivalled urban-chic elegance.

The Flamed Brushed finish is an ultra-modern addition. It has a textured surface that has then been smoothed slightly. The flaming process changes not only the surface but also the colour - giving a graphite-like silver hue.

Quite literally as old as the Earth, Granite owes its extreme hardness and density to the fact that it has been solidified under immense pressure deep within our world's core.

Its high-gloss finish is both striking and durable, making it a popular choice for many areas of the home.

With larger slabs available for fabrication into bespoke worktops and vanity tops, options are plentiful.

TERRACOTTA

Literally meaning 'baked earth', Terracotta has been with us since our early days and is still an important element of our range.

Whether you choose a more rustic hand-made or semi-hand-made option or a machine-made Terracotta from Barcelona, you are assured of an unrivalled warmth and richness of colour. Like a good wine, once fitted, sealed and waxed this material will only improve with age and create a feeling of unequalled, mellow earthiness.

PORCELAIN

Although our hearts lie with natural stone, our heads told us that not everyone wants the extra work of sealing and maintaining it. Hence our carefully sourced, small yet beautiful range of Italian Porcelain was born.

From tiles that are so close to natural stone in appearance that you have to get down on your hands and knees to check, to our simpler, more consistent tones, our Porcelain range is refreshing, versatile and durable. What's more, Porcelain allows for extra-large pieces to be produced in a 10mm thickness which is extremely helpful for wall and floor fixing.

SPLITFACE COLLECTION

SPLITFACE COLLECTION

A fascinating blend of raw texture and irregular thickness makes for a spectacular, three-dimensional surface.

As light plays on the varying angles and shades of its stones, your feature wall will really take on a life of its own. With an impressive range of size and colour options available, you can use our Splitface collection on their own, as a border or to complement an existing scheme. Grouting is not necessary so installation is simple. We'd recommend waterproofing behind the stones in wet areas.

Whether you decide to use them as a stylish splashback or as a tactile bathroom wall, a strong focal point is assured.

MOSAICS

Decorative mosaics have been used for thousands of years to stunning effect. Both beautiful and functional, mosaics lend themselves particularly well to wetroom floors, curved walls and kitchen splashbacks. Installation is simple as all are mesh-backed. Our Mosaic section is conveniently defined by finish: Honed, Polished, Riven or Tumbled. This means that you can either complement an existing scheme or just choose your favourite...

MOULDINGS

Sometimes it's the finishing touches that make all the difference. Our collection of Mouldings range from the simple yet elegant 'liner' to the more decorative 'cornice'. Used between tiles or as a top edge, these mouldings add a dash of sophistication.

OUTDOOR STONE

Exterior areas have become an essential space in which to relax, entertain and enjoy. Whether you're using stone to seamlessly link your interior to your garden or to simply revamp an existing area, then we have a multitude of options.

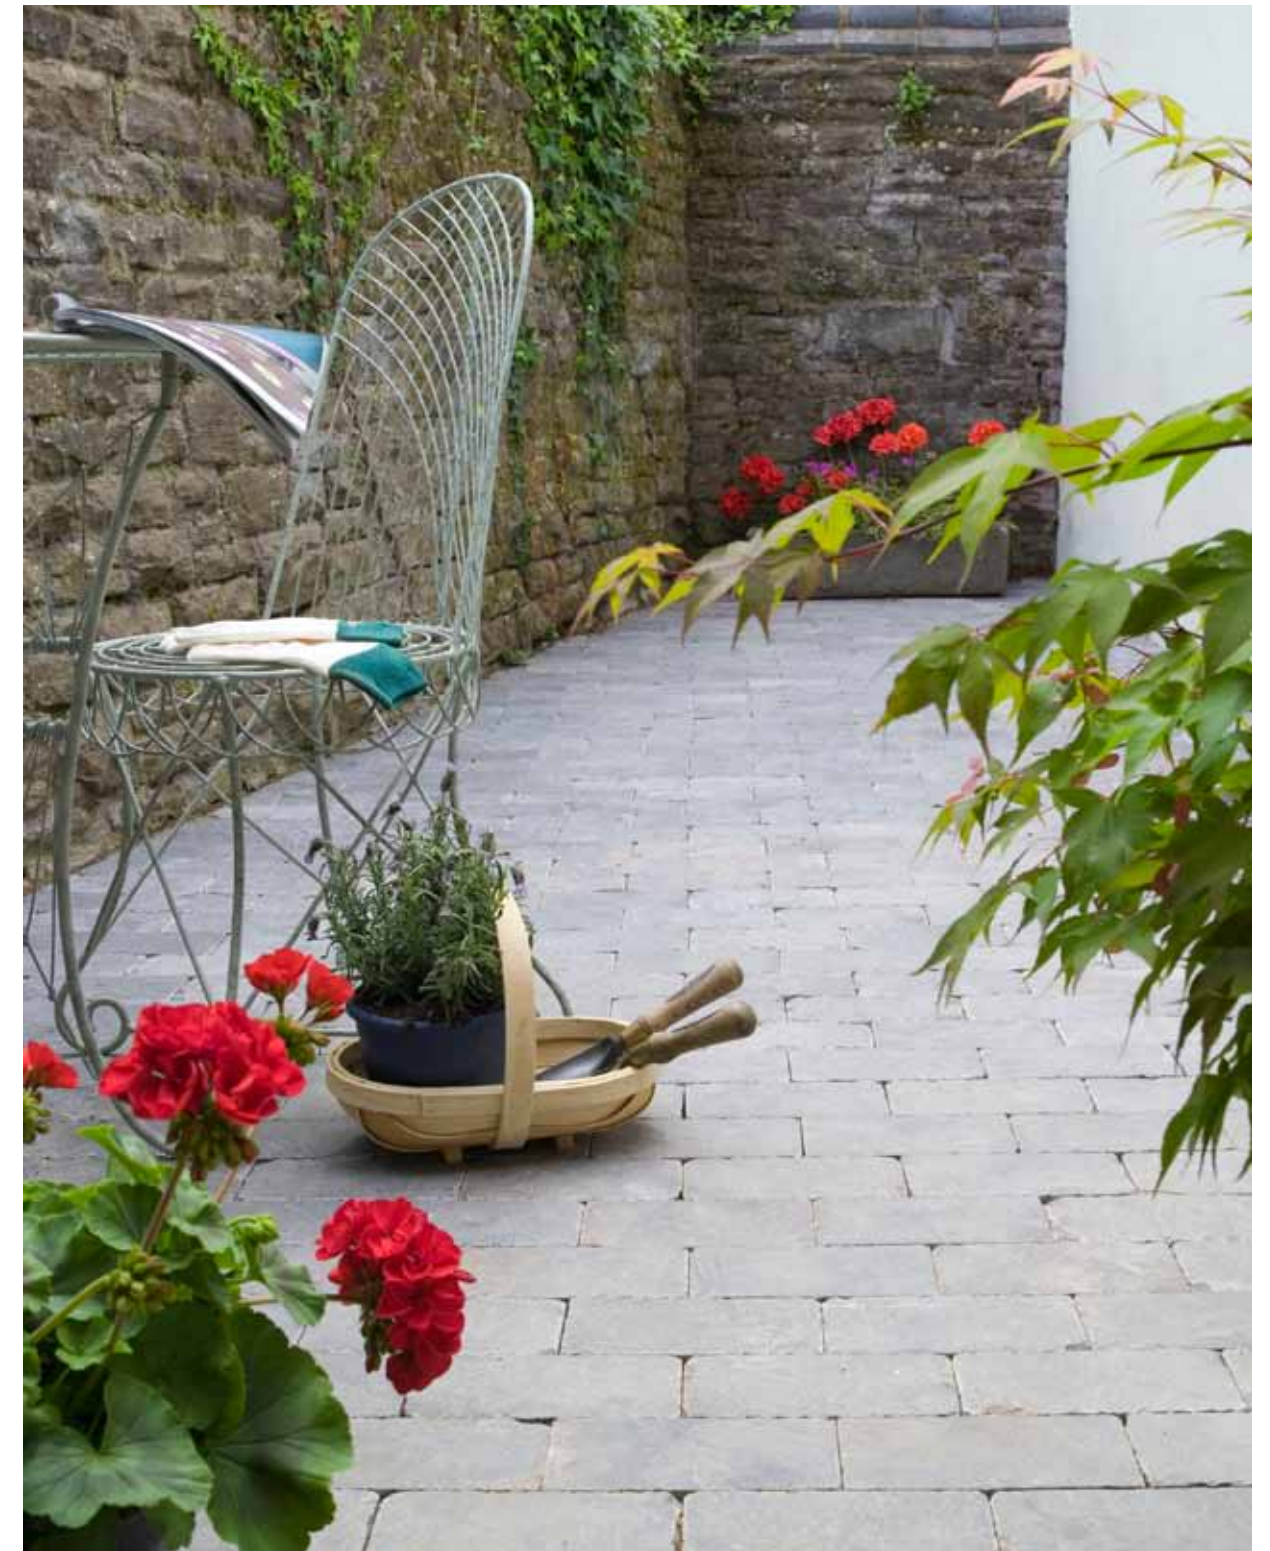

From traditional to contemporary, light to dark, flagstones to cobbles, stone offers a naturally stylish alternative to man-made paving. Sealing is optional and many decide to leave the stone to weather as has been done for thousands of years.
