

FGP Bench

The FGP Bench is organic in form and sophisticated in its simplicity. The subtle curvature of the cast aluminium structural frames gives it a soft appearance. Benches are offered in single and double lengths and are scalable. The single bench has a frame at each end, while the double bench has a frame at each end and one in the center. The timber slats are more than 25mm thick with the front slat elegantly detailed to curve around the bench frame. Slats are available hardwood timber. Cast aluminium parts have a anodised finish.
