

Hampden Park National Stadium is a venue for sporting events and concerts and home to Scotland's football team. Following the prolonged refurbishment of the stadium, new fencing was a necessary requirement in order to host a UEFA Champions League Final.

Lang+Fulton supplied a Roma-4 grating fence with a 63x132mm aperture and robust 30x4mm flat bar, which was chosen for its combination of excellent security and proven durability.

The 2600mm high fence was supplied with strong I-section posts to cope with marshalling crowds of spectators. Similarly, the gates were designed with heavy duty 150mm SHS posts.

The fencing was hot-dip galvanized and polyester powder coated for minimum maintenance with contrasting blue posts, symbolic of Scotland's national colour.

The contract amounted to over 300 linear metres of fencing and a total of 31 double leaf gates with drop bolts and sliding latches.
